Farm Bale Wrap Recycle Project

The local Federations of Agriculture and Loyalist College are running a trial project. They have made connections with Green Mantra, a Brantford plastics company, who have agreed to take a trial load of bale wrap. The company has developed a proprietary catalytic process to economically produce commercial quality waxes and fuels by recycling plastics. These waxes can be used as a replacement to traditional petroleum based products. They are presently processing some 50 tonnes/month of bale wrap and are looking to increase that amount.

Collection will be simple. The plastic has to be compacted into small square bales so it can be stacked on pallets and loaded into a transport trailer for efficient transport to the Brantford plant. Deerhaven Equipment has a compactor, which is available to rent by any farmer willing to take part. One farmer has even baled the bale wrap with a small square baler.

Green Mantra is willing to pay up to 5 cents/pound for relatively clean plastic and will even send a truck to pick it up. They will take it clean or dirty. The goal for delivery of the first load is late winter or early spring.

If you have bale plastic to recycle and are willing to participate, call 1-888-471-2066 or drop Jim Hair a note: jim.hair@ofa.on.ca. Let us know your intentions as soon as possible.
